Virginia Defenders:

Ten States plus the District of Columbia formed War of 1812 Bicentennial Commissions. Planned celebrations in these states coincided with the anniversary of significant events occurring within the states during the war.

The Virginia Bicentennial Commission has been involved in numerous projects, ranging from historical markers throughout the state to the huge OpSail event in Hampton Roads in June 2012 to a planned symposium in Hampton in June 2014, and a Fort Meigs, Ohio monument installation in 2015. In addition to the work of these commissions, State Societies of the War of 1812 are executing significant plans to celebrate the anniversary of the War.

Although 2013 is rapidly closing, the Bicentennial Celebrations of the War of 1812 are still in full swing, with more opportunities to recognize major historical events. The "Second War of Independence" lasted 32 months, from June 18, 1812 to February 18, 2015. While The Treaty of Ghent was signed on December 24, 1814, the war officially ended on February 17, 1815 when US Congress ratified the treaty. With the defeat of Napoleon on April 6, 1814 the British were able to devote more resources to fight the war in America, sending three large invasion armies. The British victory at the Battle of Bladensburg in August 1814 allowed them to capture and burn Washington, D.C.; however. American victories in September 1814 repulsed the British invasions in New York and Baltimore. Eventually the British suffered a major defeat at New Orleans in January 1815. The General Society has planned meetings and exciting events to coincide with the anniversary of the Battles of Baltimore and New Orleans. From Wednesday September 10 through Sunday September 14, 2014 the General Society will combine its Triennial Meeting with a Bicentennial Celebration of the Battle of Baltimore. All Virginia Society members are encouraged to attend. Scheduled events include a banquet on Thursday 11 Sep at Ft McHenry. Reenactments will be held at Ft McHenry on Friday and Saturday. A public fireworks display is scheduled for Saturday Night.

At the General Society meeting in Nashville in August the Board voted to have an annual meeting in January 2015 in New Orleans to celebrate the anniversary of victory there, exactly 200 years ago. Last September the Virginia BOD selected Petersburg, VA as the site of the 2014 Annual Muster to be held on 7 June 2014, with a Bicentennial Grave Marking at the Blandford Cemetery, where 97 War 1812 veterans are buried. 2nd VP Walter Sheffield will handle the arrangements for the muster. The BOD also approved submitting a grant proposal to the General Society to help fund this as a Bicentennial event. I urge you to consider a donation for this project when mailing in your annual dues notice.

Speaking of grant money, the October 22 edition of The Washington Post carried an article on The Bicentennial revealing that the State of Maryland provided $1.2 million to mark the war's anniversary. Grants include $20,000 to Frederick's Mount Olivet Cemetery for commemorative plaques on the graves of 103 War of 1812 veterans, including Francis Scott Key. $250,000 was given to the Maryland Academy of Sciences to make a 3-D Imax movie about the "Star-Spangled Banner." "Brookeville, the town James Madison stopped in for a night after fleeing Washington, got some money too: $98,550." These funds are targeted to encourage tourism and economic development.

As noted above, The Virginia Bicentennial Commission is planning a symposium on the War at Fort Monroe and Hampton University, (both in Hampton) on June 20-21, 2014. Furthermore, the City of Alexandria is planning a series of events over Labor Day weekend in 2014 (August 29 – September 1, 2014) to commemorate the bicentennial of the occupation of Alexandria by the British (similar to what Norfolk and Portsmouth did to commemorate the Battle of Craney Island's bicentennial in June 2013). Please plan on attending these events.

Judy and I wish you the best for the upcoming holidays and a great year 2014.

Minutes of Board Meeting

SOCIETY OF THE WAR OF 1812 IN THE COMMONWEALTH OF VIRGINIA

Minutes 13 September 2013 Alexandria, Virginia

Meeting called to order by President Dickie at 1200 hours. Attendees: John Dickie; Dennis Fritts; Charles Poland; John Epperly; Mike Lyman; Walter Sheffield; Thadeus Hartman; Samuel Adams, a new member of our society. Minutes from the previous meeting accepted. Officers' reports were accepted and discussed.

Dickie reported, in summary, on the General Society meeting in Nashville, TN. He noted that Shane Newcombe has been designated as Assistant Quartermaster General, General Society of the War of 1812.

The BOD unanimously voted to reinstate John Epperly to his position on the BOD and as Vice President General, upon a motion by President Dickie.

Registrar Charles Poland reported that he met with and obtained the society's registrar records from Hank Howells. Poland being the recently elected registrar and Howells being the outgoing registrar.

Reports submitted by Sheffield, Fritts, Dickie and Lyman were summarized by the submitters.

Sheffield suggested that the $12,000 in the BB&T savings account be invested in I Bonds, which have a present interest rate of 1.8% for 13 months. Poland made a motion that was seconded by Lyman which resulted in a unanimous vote implementing Sheffield's suggestion.

Following a discussion broached by Lyman regarding the bequeathing of society books to organizations, a motion by Sheffield and seconded by Fritts, a unanimous vote resulted in a policy that requires BOD approval (routinely via email) for every instance.

On a motion by Sheffield and seconded by Fritts, it was unanimously voted that Mike Lyman would be reimbursed $125 for the vase that was placed at the War of 1812 veterans monument at Mt. Hebron Cemetery in Winchester. The agreement with the Colonel James Wood II Chapter, VASSAR, is that if the society (War 1812) would install a vase—as did VASSAR—the Colonel Wood chapter would provide perpetual flowers for the two vases

The BOD authorized Lyman to negotiate with VASSAR regarding a joint grave marking next year.

The BOD selected Petersburg, VA as the site of the 2014 Annual Muster to be held on 7 June 2014, with a grave marking at the Blandford Cemetery, where 97 War 1812 veterans are buried. Sheffield will handle the arrangements for the muster. This action based on a motion by Poland and seconded by Sheffield and a unanimous vote. Dickie will seek a grant from the General Society to help defer costs associated with the marking of the graves/memorializing the veterans. Lyman to invite the USD1812 to participate.

The BOD discussed 1st VP Fritts' submission of the list of proposed "Officer Responsibilities," an assignment he was tasked with previously by President Dickie, that was intended to become a handbook for society officers. Fritts obtained the suggested responsibilities from members who have served in the respective offices. The report was submitted as a draft at the 2013 Annual Muster. On a motion by Sheffield and seconded by Poland, resulting in a unanimous vote, the "Officers Responsibilities" were adopted as a guideline until the 2014 September BOD meeting at which time it will be reviewed and a decision made regarding implementation, thereby providing an opportunity for field testing.

Dickie volunteered to purchase a uniform coat for a member who is willing to serve in the Color Guard.

Following a detailed discussion of the proposed budget for FY2014-2015, Hartman made a motion seconded by Lyman leading to a unanimous vote that resulted in: Approved Income - $8680 and Approved Expenses - $7025.

Fritts broached the perplexing problem of low attendance at the annual musters, and why this has been the case for the past few years? Observations were made but no action was suggested. Fritts stressed that this is an issue that needs addressing.

Meeting adjourned Thad Hartman, substitute Secretary for the meeting A CEREMONY FOR REVOLUTIONARY WAR & WAR OF 1812 VETERANS WAS CONDUCTED SEPTEMBER 29, 2013 IN FLOYD COUNTY IN THE PINE CREEK CEMETERY NEAR THE TOWN OF FLOYD

The events were sponsored by the Floyd Courthouse DAR. In addition to their members, Judge Gino Williams of the Montgomery General District Court was the primary speaker at both sites. Other groups represented were:

DAR District VII; The Fincastle Resolutions Chapter of the Sons of the American Revolution: John Brown, Doug Hankins, and Chuck Poland; The Society of the War of 1812 in Virginia: Chuck Poland, who presented a wreath for the Society.

From the War of 1812 Society Burials of War of 1812 Veterans in the Commonwealth of Virginia book, the following text about the veterans honored in the ceremony follow:

KROGER IS PROVIDING OUR SOCIETY FUNDS FOR OUR PROJECTS -WE NEED MORE MEMBERS TO USE IT. Read below to see how you can help

As of 2 FEB 2012 the Virginia Society of the War of 1812 has been approved to participate in the KROGER CARES FUNDRAISING PROGRAM. This program is sponsored by the Kroger Company and its affiliates to help nonprofit organizations raise funds for their activities

The way the program works is when an organization's account reaches $5,000 Kroger will cut a check for 5% of that amount ($250). Kroger confirms each account on a 4 week schedule. So if we don't reach the $5,000 amount in that time the account will be carried over until we reach the $5,000 level. If we were to exceed the $5,000 level then we get 5% of that amount.

Virginia Society of War of 1812 members must establish a Kroger Gift Card to be used at Kroger or its associate stores. Once the member establishes the gift card money can be added to the gift card at any Kroger or an associate. An example of how this works is:

You normally buy groceries at Kroger or use Kroger gas stations to buy gas and you write a check or charge your purchase. Now you go to the Kroger Customer service desk with your Kroger Gift Card and add money to your gift card. When you buy your groceries or gas you now use the gift card to make your purchases. Just as soon as you add money to your gift card that amount is credited to the Virginia Society of the War of 1812 and when $5,000 is reached Kroger cuts a check for 5% to the Society.

Get cards for every member of the family especially if they shop at Kroger's on a regular basis. The attached list shows location of and names where the card can be used.

Suppose you don't have a Kroger store in your area. You can still use the cards at Kroger associ-ates that are located in other states or when you travel look for a Kroger gas station to use you card.

All money raised in this program will be used to support Virginia Society of the War of 1812 projects such as Grave markings, publication ______ of the graves book and other events approved by BOD.

Every member should show their support for the Virginia Society of the War of 1812 by signing up for the program!

How do you get a Kroger Cares card: Contact: Dennis Fritts You will need to tell him how many cards you want. Cards are $5.00

When you get your card it will have a starting value of $5. If you want to start your card with a value higher than $5 then send a check with that amount). Remember once you have the card you can always add to it by going to the Kroger Customer Service desk or any cashier. How to contact Dennis: 59 Buckingham Court. Roanoke, VA 24019 tel 540-992-6475 dennis3@ntelos.net

October 18th: Dennis reported that our account with Kroger had reached $5000 again from five members only using the Kroger card and we received a check for $257.50 !!!!!

What a potential for more money to help pay for plagues and monuments honoring our War of 1812 veterans, if we could get more members to use it.

The Virginia Genealogical Society Newsletter of August 2013 in its Book Review section contains a review of our Society's, Burials of War of 1812 Veterans in the Commonwealth of Virginia publication.

Their editor, Barbara Vines Little, in addition to describing our book and what it contains and how to receive a discounted copy wrote

"This was obviously a monumental task and the Society and its volunteers deserve our gratitude for their efforts to preserve the often disappearing information on the burial place of those who served this nation"

A JOINT CEREMONY BETWEEN OUR SOCIETY AND THE VIRGINIA SOCIETY SAR TOOK PLACE AT MT HEBRON CEMETERY IN WINCHESTER ON SEPTEMBER 12 2013

At the ceremony a monument listing forty Revolutionary War patriots and one listing forty two War of 1812 veterans were unveiled. The 1812 monument was financed evenly between our Society and the U.S. Daughters of 1812. Below are some photos taken during the ceremony.

A new Virginia historical road sign commemorating an encounter with the British in the War of 1812 with wording as shown above, will be unveiled in a ceremony in Lancaster County on December 3, 2013. Our Society in conjunction with the Northern Neck of Virginia Historical Society and the Mary Ball Washington Museum & Library are jointly sponsoring the ceremony. The sign, financed by the Virginia War of 1812 Bicentennial Commission, will be erected by VDOT on US Route 3 as one crosses the Rappahannock River bridge entering the county. Since, there is insufficient room on the highway for the ceremony it will be conducted nearby at Willaby's Restaurant at the foot of the bridge. The scheduled time is 10am. The ceremony is open to the public and to our society members and guests, however room in the restaurant for a large number of attendees may be restrictive. Councilor, Stuart L Butler of our Society is scheduled to be the guest speaker. More detailed information about the encounter is spelled out in Butler's new book, Defending the Old Dominion; Virginia and Its Militia in the War of 1812. Our Society Publication, Encounters With the British in Virginia During the War of 1812, distributed to most libraries in Virginia in 2009, also provides some details as well. It was the first encounter with the British during the war in the Northern Neck counties. Mike Lyman and Craig Kilby also jointly authored an article published in the December 2012 issue of the Northern Neck of Virginia Historical Magazine entitled The War of 1812 in the Northern Neck in the Year 1813. Thirteen pages in this article describe the above encounter in detail and give excerpts from period newspapers. On the next page is a drawing of the battle and an article about it in the Baltimore newspaper from a reporter who observed the action from across the river in Urbanna in Middlesex County.

Decruitment of New Members

One goal that our Society should have for the year 2014 is the Recruitment of new members. Every member of the Society should Recruit at least one new member and then get that member to participate in the annual Muster! In our Recruitment effort we need to try and bring in members from every corner of the Commonwealth.

When I was Registrar we had a General Society handout that provided information about the Society and how to become a member. I no longer see that handout available from the General Society. We need to either recreate it or develop a new handout for the Virginia Society.

We need to identify locations where genealogy fairs and workshops are taking place and try to get publicity to that event. Even better we need members to attend those events and make the participants familiar with the Virginia Society of the War of 1812.

Most of our members are members of other historical organizations and we need to recruit from their ranks. We need publicity to show all the things we do especially when it comes to grave markings.

Let's make 2014 a banner year and double our membership!

First Vice President, Dennis Fritts, Membership Chairman

Author: Thadeus L. Hartman, Past President
The War of 1812 was a significant event in American history not because it was a war, per se, but because it ensured the sovereignty of the United States of America. It was America's second war of independence. Sadly, as important as it was, its significance is often overlooked and it has become a forgotten war. This bicentennial period—2012-2015—is an opportune time to reflect on the importance of the War of 1812, Ohio's role in it, and how it affected the American frontier. Moreover, 2013 is the bicentennial of the service of many men from Belmont (and Monroe) County in the War of 1812.

Within 25 years after America's first war for independence--the Revolutionary War--the country found itself entangled in five years of serious disputes with Great Britain which severely strained United States-British relations. These disputes involved naval blockades, embargoes, interference with trade, and impressment of merchant sailors off American ships on the high seas. Furthermore, there was a long-festering backdrop to this international entanglement, i.e., British agitation of Indians against American settlers on the frontier had been continuous since the outset of the Revolutionary War. Given this immense provocation, President James Madison asked the Congress for a declaration of war against Great Britain and after several days of deliberation Congress acted in the affirmative and the United States government declared war on Great Britain on 18 June 1812. Opponents referred to it as "Mr. Madison's war."

The War of 1812 wasn't just an American war; it was part of a world war. At the time, Britain was engaged in the Napoleonic Wars in Europe (also known in Britain as the Great French War) and brought the War of 1812 into that conflict, treating it as a North American theater of that European war. So, in an obscure way, Napoleon Bonaparte was a bit player in the War of 1812. British antagonism toward America that finally brought things to a head was focused on the disruption of American foreign trade and the need for sailors to man their ships, hence, the blockades, embargoes and impressments of merchant sailors. However, these factors address only the naval aspect of the war, not the Indian raids of the nation's interior.

Another historical character involved in the war, playing a leading part, was Tecumseh the Shawnee war chief. The Shawnee, a tribe of Algonquin speaking Indians, inhabited Belmont County and other parts of Ohio. Tecumseh was born in 1768 along the Scioto River in central Ohio and lived much of his life in the Ohio Country. He was a leader of note and through excellent interpersonal relationship skills formed a large inter-tribal alliance known as Tecumseh's Confederacy. Tecumseh intended his confederacy to evolve into an independent Indian nation under British protection and at the conclusion of the Revolutionary War it moved west into present-day Indiana. Of course, during the War of 1812 this Indian confederacy fought with the British. Tecumseh and his confederacy had a key role in the Battle of the Thames which took place near present-day Chatham, Ontario, Canada where the combined force of British soldiers and Indian warriors fell to the American Army led by Major General William Henry Harrison[1]. Tecumseh was killed in that battle on 5 October 1813. Following Tecumseh's death his confederacy collapsed and at the close of the war the British abandoned their Indian allies. Tecumseh had been involved in hostilities on the frontier both prior to and during the War of 1812.

A month prior to America's victory in the Battle of the Thames, Ohio's Lake Erie was the site of one of the most significant navel battles of the war, ending in a tremendous American victory. This battle directly affected soldiers from Belmont County. On 10 September 1813 Master Commandant Oliver Hazard Perry defeated Commander Robert Heriot Barclay of the Royal Navy in what is now known as the Battle of Lake Erie, or the Battle of Put-in-Bay. Perry's victory resulted in the capture of the British warships Detroit and Queen Charlotte, four smaller vessels, an entire squadron of sailors, and the recovery of Perry's initial flagship Lawrence which had fallen into enemy hands. The Lawrence suffered heavy damage during the battle but was restored and returned to service in 1814. History records Perry's message to the Commander of the Army of the Northwest, Major General William Henry Harrison—"Dear General: We have met the enemy and they are ours. Two ships, two brigs, one schooner and one sloop. Yours with respect and esteem, O.H. Perry." These captured British naval vessels were moored in an island harbor and Captain John Howell's company from Belmont County, part of the "musket fleet" and comprised of men largely from the Captina Creek area, guarded them. Perry's victory placed Lake Erie under American control for the remainder of the war and Belmont County troops assisted in securing that theater of operations.

Belmont County men responded readily to the nation's appeal to arms and between 1000 and 1200 men enlisted for the war[2], an impressive statistic given the 1810 population of the area the soldiers were drawn from was only 11, 097. Ten companies in three Ohio regiments plus three other militia companies were staffed with men from Belmont County[3]. Originally, Belmont County encompassed much of the eastern portion of present-day Monroe County. Because Monroe County, named for James Monroe, Secretary of War during the War of 1812, wasn't established until 29 January 1813 its administrative affairs and government functions were administered by the three counties from which land was taken to form it. Therefore, some Belmont County soldiers were actually residents of newly-formed Monroe County. Unfortunately extant records do not include the names of all who served.

The 1795 Treaty of Greeneville ended the Indian Wars in Ohio. Although many Indian groups left Ohio after the Greeneville treaty some remained, living beyond the Ohio Valley toward the center of the state. Settlers along other sections of the frontier, however, were engaged in defending against Indian raids from 1774 until the War of 1812 ended, due to continual incitement of Indians against them by British Indian Department agents. And, Indian armies were often lead by British army officers. For over 45 years ongoing warfare between American settlers, Indians and the British military was the norm along sections of the frontier! It was as if the Revolutionary War never ended. In fact, frontier hostilities associated with the Revolution did not stop until the signing of a document in Europe that concluded the War of 1812!

A most noteworthy event, having a calamitous result for the United States, occurred after Great Britain's role in the Napoleonic Wars changed. Capitalizing on the change of events in Europe, Britain increased the number of ground forces deployed in America and that resulted in the sacking of Washington, DC, which included the burning of the United States Capitol building and the White House. Other government buildings were also burned and many federal documents destroyed.

Even though WE won the War of 1812, the result has often been bantered back-and-forth. Some historians have observed that neither side won; the war ended in a draw. Some say that the British simply quit and went home. Canadians have even a different opinion. Many British military historians view the war only in concert with the Napoleonic Wars and the War of 1812 has no context of its own. Others opine that America was the victor but nothing really changed. An American victory without a doubt, it is a fact that the British quit and returned home. Yet, the outcome of the War of 1812 made a great difference to America, as noted by Mackubin Thomas Owens[4] in his 21 December 2012 article in the Wall Street Journal:

- American independence is validated.
- Decisive military victories achieved despite an overall lackluster performance by American forces.
- The repulse of the British attack on Fort McHenry at the Battle of Baltimore inspired Francis Scott Key to write the lyrics to "The Star-Spangled Banner."
- American statesmen came to realize that to survive in a hostile world, international relations require measures that include military power and traditional diplomacy.
- The myth of civilian militia's superiority to a professional military was exploded. Over a period of three decades following the war the United States Army adopted training standards, specialized training, discipline and doctrine.
- The Military Academy (West Point) produces highly motivated professional officers.
- Creation of the position of Commanding General of the Army, a position sorely missed during the War of 1812
- An end to the British demand for an Indian barrier state in the Old Northwest (Ohio, Indiana, Illinois, Michigan, Wisconsin and part of Minnesota). This was no minor problem. American Indians today are portrayed as mere victims. But the Indian nations of the Old Northwest constituted a formidable foe to the U.S., especially in alliance with the British.

The War of 1812 ended with the signing of a peace treaty in Ghent, Belgium on 24 December 1814. The treaty was ratified by Great Britain three days later and by the Unites States Congress on 18 February 1815, one day after it was received. However, the Battle of New Orleans was fought on 8 January 1815 (a decisive American victory) and skirmishes continued into February 1815. Some post-treaty fighting continued on the high seas for a period of months.

Much is often made of the fact that the American victory at New Orleans occurred on 8 January 1815, after the signing of the peace treaty. That treaty notwithstanding, it is extremely unlikely that, had they prevailed, the British would have given up what at that time was the most important port in North America without substantial American concessions, including territorial ones[5]. This salient point, had it come to fruition, would have had a deleterious effect on Ohio.

Finally, after 45 years of hostilities American families along the frontier experienced peace. Fortunately for Ohioans hostilities ended after 26 years. Those stalwart families that settled the frontier prepared the way for America's westward expansion. Unfortunately, the erosion of time coupled with a collective eye diverted from history and focused on the future has allowed America to forget not only the War of 1812 but also the unthinkable tragedies endured by our ancestors on the frontier.

END MOTES

1.Harrison was born in Virginia, the son of Benjamin Harrison a signer of the Declaration of Independence. His public service was phenomenal; he had a distinguished military career, served in the Ohio State Senate and both houses of the United States Congress representing Ohio, as well as accomplishments in international affairs. His wife, Anna Symmes, was from Ohio. Harrison was elected the ninth President of the United States from Ohio but served only one month (died of pneumonia), the shortest term of any president. William Henry Harrison's grandson Benjamin Harrison, born in Ohio, served from Indiana as the 23rd President of the United States.

Hartman's third great-grandfather, Adam Henthorn of Monroe County, was a private in Captain John Howell's company in Colonel John DeLong's 1st Ohio Infantry Regiment. Matilda Archer, Hartman's second great-grandmother, resided in Richland County, Ohio, when she was young. There was an Indian village in the vicinity of her family's farm and when she was ten or twelve years old (1819/1821) she had a frightening experience with a Indian; however, the incident ended with the Indian giving Matilda a string of beads because she was so fleet of foot.

Hartman is a Belmont County native and a member of the Sons of the American Revolution and the Society of the War of 1812.

Several years ago our Society furnished a plaque with monument and had it installed in the historic St John's Church Cemetery in Richmond indicating 85 War of 1812 veteran's remains are there. This year on Veterans Day, November 11th 2013, Councilor James Thacker of our Society will read the names to attendees at a ceremony there. If you can please attend.

Also, on Veterans Day at the 1917 Court House in Chesterfield County, the War of 1812 veterans from there will be honored. There is a plaque on the Court house wall there recognizing these men. Lonnie L. Essex is whca1989@aol.com Larry Gene Aaron is larry.aaron@email.com

We are so pleased to have them. I do not know Lonnie but Larry Aaron has done extensive research on the War of 1812 veterans in Danville and Pittsylvania County. He is also author of the best seller book, Race to the Dan, and has been instrumental and the driving force into getting the Dan River crossing recognized as a national site. It has been determined that American forces being able to cross just before the British arrived may indeed rescued the American Revolution from failing Welcome aboard Lonnie and Larry!!

WANT TO HAVE THE SOCIETY'S BURIAL BOOK?

Members may purchase one from the remaining inventory at a discount of $37.50 instead of the on-line cost of $45.00. Included will be a CD of over 220 additional burials and over 260 gravestone photos. Send Mike Lyman a check made out to the Society at 21 Summers Lane, White Stone, VA 22578. Postage included._

JOINT GRAVE MARKINGS WITH VASSAR

For several years now we have joined annually with the Virginia Society Sons of the American Revolution (VASSAR) to conduct joint ceremonies honoring patriots from both wars. We have done this at the St John's Church and Shockoe cemeteries in Richmond, the Fincastle Presbyterian Church cemetery in Botetourt County, the St Pauls Episcopal Church Cemetery in Norfolk, the Old Providence Church cemetery in Augusta County and the Mt Hebron Cemetery in Winchester.

This next year plans are being made to place a joint plaque listing 17 Ref War patriots and 19 War of 1812 veterans at the Masonic Cemetery in Fredericksburg.

Some possible cemetery locations for future years where plaques or monuments would be practical for honoring veterans of both wars follow:

REV WAR VETS WAR OF 1812 VETS

Augusta County Stone Presbyterian Church, Fort Defiance

Augusta County Tinkling Springs Presbyterian Church

Augusta Trinity Lutheran Church

Augusta County Old Glebe Church

Lexington Stone Wall Jackson Cemetery

SOME OTHER ITEMS OF INTEREST

Mike Lyman has teamed up with author Carolyn Jett for an article in the next issue of the Northern Neck of Virginia Historical Magazine espousing on the lives of twenty two War of 1812 veterans interred in Northumberland County, and also with author, Craig Kilby on an article in the same publication on the encounters with the British in year 1814 in the Northern Neck counties.

Author Stuart Butler of our Society on CSpan3, September 13th at 7 & 11pm presented a lecture on the War of 1812

Dennis Fritts, Charles Belfield and Mike Lyman now have identical period hats and coats for the color guard. It is the stovepipe shake hat worn by Regular Army Infantry officers during the War of 1812 that has the same hat emblem, plume and cockade as pictured below. The coat is a replica of the one worn by the Richmond Light Infantry Blues Company, a part of the 19th Virginia Militia Regiment of Richmond City. The hat with accessories is available for purchase from C.D. Jamagin Co at http://www.jamaginco.com/ President Dickie says he will help finance obtaining an 1812 coat. The rest of the uniform is similar to Revolutionary war dress.

The 1813 pattern shako hat the U.S. Army used was made entirely of leather. The hat has an external plume holder which is on the left hand side. sweatband has drawstring liner. This hat has a light leather cape folded around the back of the hat held in place with two buttons at the back edge of the brim. A wool cord and tassel is attached at the upper side by a copper ring and to the button on the left hand side.

This is an official publication of the War of 1812 Society in the Commonwealth of Virginia. Inquiries and requests for information should be made to the Editor at melyman@va.metrocast.net. For current information also visit our website at www.1812va.org
